

Abstract

This diploma thesis is focused on titles to inheritance. The aim of the thesis is to capture their course in the Czech Republic.

This thesis is systematically divided into seven chapters. The first one is the introduction, in which the author justifies chosen topic. The second chapter is focused on development of inheritance law. Following chapters are focused on titles to inheritance. Each chapter is divided into several parts. These parts are lined up chronologically. Titles to inheritance are lined up in order to their legal force in recent legislation.

At first the author is focused on inheritance contract in the third chapter. Before ObčZ 2012, inheritance contract was in legal force at least more than 60 years ago and it returns by ObčZ 2012 to our legal system.

The fourth chapter is focused on testament. At its first part there is a brief view into ABGB. In the following part narrowing of legislation under the influence of so called Legal Biennial is visible. The chapter ends with a view into the ObčZ 2012, which is strikingly similar to provisions of ABGB.

The fifth chapter deals with intestacy. It is visible that the provisions in ObčZ 2012 are similar ABGB. In the sixth chapter there is conclusion in which the author presents her opinions on the whole topic. The seventh chapter includes bibliography.
